

NOTICE TO PARTICIPANTS IN HOUSING COUNSELING:

While information about available, affordable and accessible rental housing and other forms of rental housing assistance is made available to you, you are under no obligation to utilize these services or assistance or seek housing from these rental housing providers.

You are free to choose from the rental housing providers and other forms of rental housing assistance that may be available based on eligibility, regardless of the recommendations made by housing counselors.

If general information or referrals to any programs or assistance related to homeownership are provided to you, you are under no obligation to utilize any of those programs, services, or other assistance regardless of the recommendations made by housing counselors.
